

School of Liberal Arts

Applied Psychology
ETE - Jun 2023

Time : 3 Hours

Marks : 100

Sem IV - K1UA401T - Cognitive Psychology

Your answer should be specific to the question asked

Draw neat labeled diagrams wherever necessary

1. Define inductive, deductive and abductive reasoning. K2 CO1 (5)
2. Describe the domain of attention in cognitive psychology, including different types of attention and their functions. K2 CO1 (5)
3. Describe the early selection theory of attention and its key assumptions. K2 CO1 (5)
4. Illustrate the phenomenon of perceptual illusions and how they challenge our understanding of perception. K3 CO3 (10)
5. Explain the concept of perceptual constancy that allows us to perceive stable objects despite changes in sensory input. K2 CO2 (10)
6. Illustrate different levels of thinking and its utilization with real life examples. K3 CO3 (10)
- 7) Illustrate the process of experimental design and its application in cognitive psychology research. K3 CO3 (10)

OR

- Point out the process of problem-solving and the different stages involved. K3 CO3 (10)
8. Illustrate Tulving's concept of Long Term Memory with its divisions. K4 CO4 (15)
 9. State the concept of attention and its role in cognitive processing. K4 CO4 (15)
 - 10) Criticize different types of memory and their characteristics. K5 CO4 (15)

OR

- Evaluate the domain of memory in cognitive psychology, including different types of memory and the processes involved in memory formation and retrieval. K5 CO4 (15)