ABSTRACT

The main objective of this dissertation is to critically analyze Insolvency and Bankruptcy laws in India and to compare the new Insolvency and Bankruptcy Code (IBC) 2016 with the old law. An important part of this dissertation is the introduction of new terms by the IBC 2016, which has led to many procedural changes in insolvency law.<sup>1</sup> The process of insolvency is different for individuals and corporate entities, and the adjudicating authority also differs in both cases. A key point of debate is the role of the National Company Law Tribunal (NCLT) and insolvency professionals, who are central figures in the insolvency process. The main aim of this new act is to ensure resolution within 180 days, with a possible extension of 90 more days. The Insolvency and Bankruptcy Code has been constructed by the legislature by drawing on insolvency laws from different countries, addressing the shortcomings of previous laws (repealed) that had many loopholes. The new insolvency process takes care of these. The IBC 2016 gives equal importance to secured and unsecured creditors, and the process for the committee of creditors is also different. Foreign financial investors and foreign banks are also secured under the new law, as they fall under the category of "waterfall," which was missing under the previous insolvency law. This dissertation examines the many points of difference between the IBC 2016 and the old law, and draws conclusions based on this analysis.

CHAPTER 1

INTRODUCTION

An overview of insolvency and bankruptcy laws in India has drastically changed over recent time giving it a new historical apex that is more structural and coordinated. One of the recent significant reforms was the initiation of the Insolvency and Bankruptcy code in 2016 which aimed at the consolidation of diverse Acts relate to insolvency and bankruptcy. This paradigm shift has played a role in helping in the ease of doing business in India fast-tracking the resolution of insolvency cases and achieving maximal realization of assets. The trends that emerged in the present topical area point to the progressive development and constant changes in the legal environment to address modern-day issues. Such trends include the rising prevalence of pre-packaged insolvency solutions creditor remedy exclusive professionals in insolvency and judicial guidelines that define the IBC'S tenets and applications. This dynamism is the hallmark of these developments and it underscores India's determination to provide a solid legal infrastructure for the strengthening of insolvency regimes as beneficial to creditor's debtors and the financial system as a whole.<sup>2</sup>

During the functioning of the IBC there were some problems by practice and changes in the development of the world economy that caused the changes in the functioning of the IBC through amendments. Thereafter the orders of National Company Law Tribunal (NCLT) National Company Law Appellate Tribunal (NCLAT) and Supreme Court of India has aided in providing some further clarity in the mechanism of enforcing the code. These interpretations have provided a clearer understanding of several questions of the IBC including the identity of parties applying for the resolution different types of creditors as well as the meaning of the concept of default.3 New development: Recently introduced pre-packaged insolvency processes to provide more efficient measures for

Micro Small and Medium Enterprises (MSMEs). There is also more emphasis placed in cross border insolvency laws as the world economy is now integrated and many companies and financial exercises are more global in character. Also, insolvency professionals – the place of these individuals has been actively changing throughout the years and their skills as well as the ways of obtaining them are becoming increasingly emphasized. These trends go along the path that India has been charting out to build a robust and a progressive framework of bankruptcy laws that protect the creditors and the debtors and which also supports the stability and growth of the financial system. Such shifts and transformation processes are regarded as the preventive measures for preparing the setting more conducive to the development of business companies as well as provide an adequate financial management.

1.2 Background

A glimpse at the historical background of the insolvency and bankruptcy laws in India is important so as to underset and the need for these laws arising out of the need to protect the rights of creditors and regulate debtor's ability to discharge his liabilities especially in light of the dynamic and expanding economic structure of the nation. Before the introduction of IBC in 2016 India had complex insolvency laws that followed a sectoral approach and was governed by the SICA RDDBFI and Companies Act. Such laws sustained poor creditor recoveries legally long winding wind up hitches and low value of assets in the distress list.

However realizing the shortcomings of the old law, the Indian government in 2014 formed the Bankruptcy Law Reforms Committee (BLRC). The earlier legislation was formally called the BLRC that recommended the so-called IBC which has passed and aims at the creation of a general and detailed legal structure to address issues of insolvency and bankruptcy for company's partnerships and persons. The IBC was further planned to simplify the insolvency procedure to develop methods for efficient recovery of debts and to advance the business atmosphere.<sup>3</sup>

As with the CB the IBC also has features such as the imposition of time-bound resolution processes formation of the IBBI as the regulatory authority and the introduction of a new category of insolvency practitioners to manage the processes. Further the National Company Law Tribunal (NCLT) and the National Company Law Appellate Tribunal (NCLAT) were finally recognized as the institutional agencies for processing corporate insolvency proceedings.

A brief on the developments of the IBC the IBC has most certainly affected the financial and business network in India since its establishment. It has established a clear and easy to follow structure that aids in the tackling of insolvency resulting to better creditors' risk and eventually foreign currency participation.

The IBC has been amended several times to apt better the new challenges that have cropped up and to make this legal instrument more effective as insolvency law is crucial to economic growth.

1.3 Need for an Effective Insolvency and Bankruptcy Regime

Failure of firm has severe negative impact on all of corporation's stakeholder's including its lenders shareholders creditors suppliers customer's employees and federal and state governments. It is therefore essential that valuable resources including capital manpower machinery and management are pulled out of failed / unviable businesses at earliest and are deployed in other profitable ventures. However, it is necessary to reorganise viable firms as soon as possible.<sup>4</sup>

If parties involved in corporate insolvency situation can act quickly and logically to address situation i.e. decision about continuation of business its organization or its closure law to deal with insolvency situation and intervention of courts may not be required. However, it has been observed that stakeholders fail to take such decisions to deal with situation of insolvency and therefore is need for corporate insolvency law. An economy needs an effective Bankruptcy

Law to deal with situation where in case of inability of debtor to make payment to its creditors as per payment schedule right of creditors to get control over affairs of defaulting debtor does not get effected and that debtor continues to have control over affairs of its business. Though contractually creditors may have right to get control over business of defaulting debtor however due to inefficiency of prevailing legal system they are not able to get said control without intervention of court. Involvement of courts or tribunals in these cases can be reduced if legal system provides for proper consequence and punishment for individuals who violate these contractual duties. It is often said that in absence of bankruptcy law firm's assets would be sold as scrap and value would be lost. As such law to deal with corporate insolvency / bankruptcy enables an economy to rescue viable businesses and to pull out valuable economic resources out of unviable businesses through liquidation process at earliest without further depletion in value of assets so that same can be deployed in other profitable economic activity.<sup>7</sup>

At present there are multiple overlapping laws and adjudicating forums dealing with financial failure and insolvency of companies and individuals in India. Current legal and institutional framework does not aid lenders in effective and timely recovery or restructuring of defaulted assets and causes undue strain on Indian credit system. Recognizing that reforms in bankruptcy and insolvency regime are critical for improving business environment and alleviating distressed credit markets. Government introduced Insolvency and Bankruptcy Code bill in November 2015 drafted by specially constituted Bankruptcy Law Reforms Committee (BLRC) under Ministry of Finance. Trilegal worked with BLRC to assist with drafting of bill. After public consultation process and recommendations from joint committee of Parliament both houses of Parliament have now passed.

Insolvency and Bankruptcy Code, 2016

The Code, while legislation of Code is historical development for economic reforms in India its effect will be seen in due course when institutional infrastructure and implementing rules as envisaged under Code are formed. In new age economy of every country is hosted by financial structure of a business and major participants within developing financial infrastructure of country are financial institutions and creditors who aid within efficient working of all financial. Requirements of an industry main goal of financial help being offered is to industries to have development of nation that can be evaluated by GDP of thecountry. function of such financial organizations and creditors is not only limited to furthered providing loan or credit to any industry but also to inject such equipments as needed by an industry from time-to-time Reserve Bank of India (RBI) tried to implement different routes so that Bank lender creditor may restructure or recover its stressed asset through CDC Restructuring (SDR) CDR Scheme of Arrangement Stands for Restructuring of Stressed Assets. The Insolvency and Bankruptcy Code 2016 was created with presence of next objectives are:

- 1. To promote entrepreneurship.
- 2. To provide credit.
- 3. Balance interests of all stakeholders by consolidating and amending provisions consistently as well as equitably existing legislation concerning solvency and bankruptcy.
- 4. To shorten determination periods for enhancement of asset values.

The main topic of Code is to reinforce all legislation that has something to do with companies' insolvency. Liability is capped at specific amount for limited liability entities and for unlimited liability partners and individuals through multiple laws to one confirmed legislative document.

Meanwhile SICA Repeal Act came into effect.

December 2016 and AAIFR and BIFR bands are terminated.

Background

Insolvency is state of indebtedness where individuals or companies are not able to pay back their overdue financial obligation's debt. Changing restructure of loans writing off any debt that is remarkable or making this problem may be solved with operational modifications within company management if insolvency cannot however assets of debtor may be sold within an attempt to generate money to pay repayment of outstanding debt.

There are some laws which are within place to govern and regulate Insolvency resolution for companies within India these contain

- 1. The Sick Industrial Companies Act of 1985 and
- Recovery of Debt through Deposit Insurance and Credit Guarantee Corporation Act 1993 (DRT Act)
- 3. Security and Guarantees were addressed Reconstruction of Financial Assets and Enforcement of Security Interests Act 2002. (SARFAESI) and
- 4. Companies Act 2013.<sup>5</sup>

These laws enable restructuring of debt and seizure and sale of debtor's remaining after deducting of outstanding loans. Similar rule of law like President of Towns Insolvency Act 1909 and Provincial Insolvency Act 1920 govern insolvency resolution for individuals. On other side these laws state procedures for resolving bankruptcy which is another way of saying insolvency creditor may also approach civil courts for debt recovery.

The Bankruptcy Law Reforms Committee within 2015 explained that there have been delays within bankruptcy process insolvency resolution. These revolve around jurisdictions of laws and judicial conflicts of clarity and their provisions. Till 2015 bankruptcy liquidation within India took 4.3 years on average that was higher when compared with Western Countries. Moreover the performance of courts delivering judgments was inefficient because of reasons including capacity of courts. Since example 62,000 cases have been pending before Debt Recovery Tribunals December 2014 while number of cases which was treated within year was approximately 10,000. The Insolvency and Bankruptcy Code 2015 was enacted within Parliament with an aim to solve issues of these problems. It became law after both Houses approved it and it was assented by President on 28th May 2016. Implementation was done from 12th December 2016.

Importance of Effective Insolvency and Bankruptcy Regime:

Failure of company is greatly detrimental to all stakeholders of corporation comprising its lenders shareholders creditor's supplier's consumer's workers and federal and state governments. Therefore, fact that scarce resources which includes capital human resources and etc. are valuable are removed from businesses easily. Yet we must reorganize survival one's companies if it is possible. If companies involved within corporate insolvency situation act promptly and rationally to resolve it congruenent of situation that is decision on whether business continues its reorganization or closure law within dealing with insolvency issue and intervention of courts is not sufficient enough. Required nevertheless other stakeholders are often reluctant to make such decisions. On other h and bequeaths matter of insolvency and is necessity of corporate insolvency law. Within word an economy must have sound Bankruptcy Law that can help to solve problem of bankruptcy case.<sup>6</sup>

Inability of debtor to meet obligations towards its creditors by paying according payment terms right to change within claim position of creditors to have control over affair of defaulting debtor does not get affected. However, debtor has power to make decisions about management of its business though legally creditors can have authority to steer business of defaulting debtor but they are not able to recover debt within an ineffective legal system. Role of courts or tribunals within resolution is therefore vital these cases can be reduced if legal system prepares for right consequence and punishment as for those who break these contractual obligations. They say it is generally known that within absence of an 'insolvency laws would mean that firm's assets would be liquidated as scrap and value would disappear'. As such law coping with corporate insolvency / bankruptcy is an important factor which helps an economy to resuscitate viable firm to shut down failing businesses and to withdraw useful economic recycle from failing businesses.<sup>7</sup>

By way of liquidation process at last without other further decrease of value assets such that same can be mobilized and used within other profitable economic activities. There exist many such overlapping laws and different courts dealing with issue of bankruptcy and insolvency of corporate and individuals at present within India. Existing legal and institutional systems this framework also does not help lenders within right and time confirm recovery or restructuring of defaulted loans stance and effects often have an adverse effect on Indian credit system. Understanding fact that reforms within country require bankruptcy and insolvency regime are key within ensuring improvement of business environment alleviating distressed credit markets.<sup>8</sup> Government introduced Insolvency and Bankruptcy Code within November 2015 prepared by one tasked specially within Bankruptcy Law Reforms. The Ministry of Finance has established committee (BLRC) called (Committee) together with BLRC was helping within this bill that drafted. Once public consultation process was complete and recommendations by were given joint committee of Parliament both houses within Parliament have now offered INSOVENCY and BANKRUPTCY CODE 2016. Whilst legalization of Code was important historical within course of time its effects in.terms an of India's economic program will become visible institutional infrastructure and implementation of those rules apply as stipulated within Code.

The Code:

It provides uniform comprehensive legislation on subject of restructuring encompassing any entity alliances and individuals who are not financial organizations. 1. One of primal characteristics of code on other hand creditors to evaluate debtor's ability to be considered as business option and depending on result transaction may be agreed.

On scheme of its rescue of rapid dissolution regime code constitutes new institutional scheme which includes regulator insolvency professionals and information utilities an adjudication mechanism that promotes legally binding insolvency resolution within specified timeframe and liquidation.

STATEMENT OF PROBLEM

The Insolvency & Bankruptcy laws in India especially the Insolvency and Bankruptcy Code (IBC) of 2016 was passed in order to handle the emerging NPAs and formulate steps to resolve the insolvency. Nevertheless, several crucial issues and the importance of the new ones remain unnoticed and unaddressed. Some of the challenges relate to the time taken to resolve insolvency unequal application of laws across the countries and challenges in solving the problems that the insolvency resolution aims at solving. There are also questions as to how these laws will be effectively and efficiently implemented and the effects that they will create for the creditors the debtors as well as the whole economy. The purpose of this research is to outline these trends and challenges in the context of the Indian insolvency and bankruptcy laws so that the identified issues can be addressed in order to enhance the effectiveness of the existing laws in this area.

SCOPE AND LIMITATIONS

SCOPE

This paper aims at assessing the insolvency and bankruptcy laws within the India legal framework with a focus on the IBC of 2016 and reveal the emerging trends and challenges. The study will highlight the legislation and its provisions court decisions and the practical application of the IBC. This will explore how these laws are implemented by analyzing key case laws and judgments of Supreme Court of India and National Company Law Tribunal (NCLT). The study will also examine the implications of these laws on the credit industry borrowers and the Indian economy in general.

Furthermore, the study will involve a cross-country analysis of India's insolvency laws and regulations to determine bench marks and possible enhancements.

LIMITATIONS

This research is however mainly doctrinal research meaning that it depends widely on legal texts case laws and commentaries. It does not contain other data collected by means of interviews or questionnaires. Moreover, the study does not involve the collection of primary data through surveys or interviews; hence the research is limited to public informatio and documents which may not reveal all the details and issues that stakeholders encounter in their daily operations. Insolvency laws are also still changing with remarkable speed and there are constant new judicial decisions which may also restrict the study's accuracy of analysis. Lastly the study focuses on the Indian context only and thus while comparing with a few other jurisdictions the results may not be representative of the global trends in insolvency and bankruptcy laws.

Research Methodology

This research will be using doctrinal analysis to look into the emerging trends in insolvency and bankruptcy laws in India. Doctrinal research specifically involves the critical examination of legal documents such as statutes and precedents with the intention of ascertaining the legal position. The primary data collection will also entail adopting and analyzing the Insolvency and Bankruptcy Code falls in either in Financial Creditor or Operational Creditors under IBC. It includes secured and unsecured financial creditor.

(IBC) of India the code's amendments rules and regulations. It will also analyse case laws from the Supreme Court of India and the National Company Law Tribunal (NCLT) to view as to how these laws are implemented. Secondary sources like academic articles law reviews and government reports can add another view point as well as criticisms. The research will systematically identify interpret and analyze these legal materials in a view to dissect important trends and development. This approach will enable one to explain how the laws of insolvency and bankruptcy in India have developed and identify the ways in which these laws can be enhanced based on the international comparison. Concerning ethical issues, it is necessary to admit that all the sources used must be identified and cited properly. This doctrinal research shall be useful in offering a clear and detailed view of the evolving legal regime of insolvency and bankruptcy in India.

Financial Creditor is defined under section 5(7) of IBC 2016 it means person from whom financial debt is owed or to whom such debt is legally assigned or transferred and to know whether person is financial creditor it has to been taken into account what is financial debt<sup>26</sup>. Financial Debt is defined under section 5(8) of IBC 2016 according to which debt with interest if any which is given for time value of money and includes.

- a) Money borrowed against payment of interest.
- b) Any amount raised by acceptance under any acceptance credit facility or its dematerialized equivalent i.e. by share debentures Bonds etc.
- c) Any amount raised pursuant to any note purchase facility or issue of bonds notes debentures loan stock or any similar instrument.
- d) The amount of any liability in respect of any lease or hire purchase contract which is deemed as finance or capital lease under Indian Accounting Standards or such other accounting standards.
- e) Receivables sold or discounted other than any receivables sold on nonrecourse basis.
- f) Amount raised under any other transaction including any forward sale or purchase agreement having commercial effect of borrowing.
- g) Any derivative transaction entered into in connection with protection against or benefit from fluctuation in any rate or price and for calculating value of any derivative transaction only such transaction's market worth must be taken into consideration.

- h) Any counter indemnity obligation in respect of guarantee indemnity bond documentary letter of credit or any other instrument issued by bank or financial institution.
- i) The amount of any liability in respect of any of guarantee or indemnity
- j) For any of items referred to in sub clauses (a) to (h) of this clause<sup>27</sup>.

Operational Creditor is defined under section 5(20) of IBC 2016 that means person from whom operational debt is owed and includes every person to whom such debt is legally assigned or transferred to know whether person is operational creditor it has to been taken into account what is operational debt. Operational debt is defined under section 5(21) of IBC 2016 which means any claim in respect of provision of goods or services which includes employment of any kind and debt in respect of repayment of dues under any provision of law to person or payable to Central government State government or local authority. It includes secured and unsecured operational creditor<sup>28</sup>.

In order passed by NCLT Principal Bench New Delhi where tribunal interpreted definition of Operational Creditor under IBC Honorable Tribunal while dismissing Petition instituted question of whether flat buyer would fit under definition of "Operational Creditor" under Section 9 of IBC was decided at admission stage itself person is owing "Operational Debt" as described in Section 5(21) of IBC as defined under Section 5(20) of IBC.

The Honorable Tribunal observed that the framers of IBC had not intended to include within expression of an 'operation debt' debt other than financial debt. As result an operational debt would only fall under four categories of products services employment and government obligations as listed in Section 5(21) of IBC. Tribunal determined that debt owed to Petitioner (in this case flat buyer) had not resulted from any products services employment or dues that were due to Center/State Government or local governments under any statute. Instead Petitioner requested return that was connected to ownership of immovable property.

The Honorable Tribunal while deciding question of whether flat purchaser could be considered an operation creditor considered observations of Bankruptcy and law Reform Committee:

Operational Creditors are those whose liability from entity comes from transaction on operations. Thus, wholesale vendor of spare parts whose spark plugs are kept in inventory by car mechanics and who get paid only after spark plugs are sold is an operational creditor.

Similarly lessor that entity rents out space from is an operational creditor to whom entity owes monthly rent on three-year lease. <sup>29</sup>

The Honorable Tribunal held that Petitioner had neither supplied goods nor had rendered any services to acquire status of an 'Operational Creditor'. It was further held that it was not possible to construe Section 9 read with Section 5(20) and Section 5(21) of IBC 2016 so widely to include within its scope cases where dues were on account of advance made to purchase flat or commercial site from construction company like Respondent especially when Petitioner had other remedies available under Consumer Protection Act and General Law of land.

Sick Industrial Companies Act:

"Sickindustrial division is outlined as division or an organization (breathing for not but 5 years) that is found at tip of any fiscal year to possessincurred accumulated losses up to or exceptional its entire internet value onlinevalue is calculated as aggregation of paid up capital and free reserves of an organization less provisions and expenses as could also be prescribed. an industrial unit is additionally thought to be doubt less sick or weak unit if at tip of any fiscal year it's accumulated losses up to or exceptional fifty per cent of its average internet value within at once preceding four monetary years and has didn't repay debts to its creditor(s) in 3 consecutive quarters on demand created in writing for such compensation. Two basic factors which can lead to illness of a industrial unit are":

Internal factors i.e. Poor implementation can result to improper coming up with or social control inefficiency;

Poor inventory management in respect of finished merchandise also as inputs. Unwarranted enlargement and diversion of resources like personal extravagances excessive overheads acquisition of unproductive mounted assets etc.:

Failure to modernise the productive equipment amendment merchandise combines and alternative parts of promoting mix to suit dynamical environment;

Poor labour management relationship and associated low workers morale and low productivity strikes lockouts etc."

External factors are those that occur outside an organization. They include: "Energy crisis arising out of power cuts or shortage of coal or oil;

Failure to attain optimum capability because of shortage of raw materials as results of production set backs within provide industries poor agricultural output due to natural reasons, changes within importconditions etc.

Infrastructural issues like transport bottlenecks; Credit squeeze;

Things like market recession changes in technology etc.; International pressures or circumstances etc."

Industrial illness could also be caused by mix of all such factors it's many adverse consequences on economy as an entire number of which can be enumerated as follows: .

- i.) "It ends up in loss of considerable revenue to govt. and enhances its public expenditure;
- ii.) It locks up necessary resources and funds within sick unit. This conjointly will increase non performing assets (NPAs) of banks and monetary institutions;
- iii.) It ends up in loss of production and productivity within economy;
- iv.) It aggravates matter of stale within economy;
- v.) It vitiates commercial atmosphere and ends up in worker management disputes strikes lock outsetc.

It undermines general public confidence within functioning of unionized sector in country that successively affects general investmentclimate of economy.

"In light of consequences of illness and its growing incidence by size region and trade followed by its comprehensive adverse socio economic effects govt. has been taking several steps andremedial measures so as to tackle this downside in India. Foremost important live has been enactment of Sick Industrial Companies (Special Provisions) Act 1985 (SICA).

Sick Industrial Companies (Special Provisions) Act 1985:

"The most vital piece of legislation managing industrial illness was Sick Industrial Companies (Special Provisions) Act 1985 (SICA). It applies to industrial undertakings each within public and personal sectors. SICA as well as any rules or schemes created under it had preponderant provisions over alternative laws except provisions of interchange Regulation Act 1973 and therefore Urban L and (Ceiling and Regulation) Act 1976. Basic explanation of enacting SICA wasto see illness within industrial units. It conjointly aimed toward expediting revival of doubtless viable units so on build investments in such units profitable. At identical times to confirm closure of unviable units therefore on unleash investments latched up in such units for productive use elsewhere." Thus, broad objectives of SICA were:

"Timely detection of sick and doubtless sick firms Speedy determination by body of specialists of preventive ameliorates remedial and alternative measures which require tobe gaged regard to such firms. Efficient social control of 1he measures therefore determined and for all matters connected with that or incidental to that. Vital provisions of SICA were. It provided for constitution of 2 quasi.judicial bodies that is Board for Industrial and monetary Reconstruction (BIFR) and proceedings Authority for Industrial and monetary Reconstruction (AAIFR). BIFR was founded as an apex board to tackle industrial illness and was entrusted with work of taking acceptable measures for revival and rehabilitation of doubtless sick undertakings and for liquidation of non viable firms. While AAIFR was established for hearing appeals against orders of BIFR.

BIFR would build a inquiry because it could view suitable crucial whether or not any industrial company had become sick below subsequent conditions:

 If Board of administrators of sick industrial company created relation to BTFR for determination of remedial measures with respect to their company. Such reference was to be created at intervals sixty days from date of mop up of punctually audited accounts of corporate for fiscal year at tip of that company had become sick. For filing reference Board of administrators should have ample reasons to make opinion that corporate had become sick; or"

- On receiving such data (reference) with regard to sick company or upon its own information on insolvency of an organization. Such relation to board could also be created by: .
  - i.) Central Government;
  - ii.) Reserve Bank of India;
  - iii.) State Governments;
  - iv.) Public monetary institutions;
  - v.) State level institutions; or regular banks

Insolvency Regime in India after Enactment of Code:

The Insolvency and Bankruptcy Code, 2016 has consolidated all laws related to insolvency in it. Now we have only one law dealing with insolvency in India. Insolvency and Bankruptcy Code passed by theParliament is welcome overhaul of present framework addressing insolvency of corporates, people, partnerships and alternative entities. It paves approach forabundant required reforms whereas immersion on mortal driven insolvency resolution<sup>41</sup>.

At present, there are multiple overlapping laws and adjudicating forums addressing money failure and insolvency of firms and people in India. Current legal and institutional framework doesn't aid lenders in effective and timely recovery or restructuring of defaulted assets and causes undue strain on Indian system. Recognising that reforms within bankruptcy and insolvency regime are essential for rising business surroundings and assuaging distressed credit markets, Government introduced Insolvency and bankruptcy Code Bill in November 2015, written by specially implanted 'Bankruptcy Law Reforms Committee' (BLRC) below Ministry of Finance. After public consultation method and suggestions from joint committee of Parliament, each homes of Parliament have currently passed Insolvency and Bankruptcy Code 2016(Code). While legislation of Code may be historical development for economic reforms in India, its impact is seen in due course once institutional infrastructure and implementing rules as envisaged below Code are shaped<sup>42</sup>."

The Code:

"The Code offers regular, comprehensive insolvency legislation encompassing all firms, partnerships and people (other than money firms). Government is proposing separate framework for bankruptcy resolution in failing banks and money sector entities. One of elemental options of Code is that it permits creditors to assess viability of soul as business call, and agree upon an inspiration for its revival or speedy liquidation. Code creates br and newinstitutional framework consisting of regulator, insolvency professionals, datautilities and judgment mechanisms that may facilitate proper and time certain insolvency resolution method and liquidation<sup>43</sup>."

Main Features of Code Corporate Debtors: Two.Stage Process

To initiate associate insolvency method for company debtors, default ought to be minimum of INR100, 000 (USD 1495) (which limit could also be accrued up to INR 10,000,000 (USD 149,500) by Government). Code proposes 2 freelance stages: Insolvency Resolution Process, throughout that money creditors assess whether or not debtor's business is viable to continue and choices for its rescue and revival and Liquidation, if insolvency resolution method fails or money creditors conceive to wind down and distribute assets of soul<sup>44</sup>."

Insolvency Resolution Process (IRP), IRP provides collective mechanism to lenders to accommodate distressed position of company soul. This may be vital departure from present legal framework below that first vexation to initiate shakeup method lies with soul, and lenders could pursue distinct actions for recovery, security social control and debt restructuring. Code envisages subsequent steps within IRP

- i.) Commencement of IRP'A money mortal (for defaulted financial debt) or an operational creditor (For an unpaid operational debt) will initiate a IRP against company soul at National Company Law Tribunal (NCLT). Defaulting company soul, its shareholders or workers, may additionally initiate voluntary insolvency proceedings.
- ii.) Moratorium, NCLT orders moratorium on debtor's operations for amount of IRP. This operates as 'calm period' throughout that no judicial proceedings for recovery, social control of interest sale or transfer of assets, or termination of essential contracts will occur against soul.
- iii.) Appointment of Resolution Professional. NCLT appoints associate insolvency skilled or 'Resolution Professional' to administer IRP. Resolution Professional's primary perform is to require over management of company recipient and operate its business as going concern below broad directions of committee of creditors. This is like approach below UK insolvency laws, however distinct from "debtor in possession" approach below Chapter eleven of US bankruptcy code. Under US bankruptcy code, debtor's management retains management whereas bankruptcy skilled solely oversees business so as to stop and barring on thepart of promoters. Therefore thrust of Code is to permit shift of management from defaulting debtor's management to its creditors, wherever creditors drive business of soul with Resolution Professional acting as their agent.
- iv.) Creditors Committee and Revival Plan, The Resolution Professional identifies money creditors and constitutes creditors committee. Operational creditors higher than specific threshold are allowed to attend conferences of committee however don't have balloting power. Each call of creditors committee needs 75% majority vote. Decisions of creditors committee are binding on company soul and everyone its creditors. The creditors committee considers proposals for revival of soul and should decide whether or not to proceed with revival set up or liquidation among amount of one hundred eighty days (subject to one.time extension by ninety days). Anyone will outside liquidation, he should contribute any excess yield to liquidation trust. Further, just in case of any inadequacy in recovery, secured creditors are junior to unsecured creditors to extent of inadequacy<sup>45</sup>."

Insolvency Resolution Process for Individuals/Unlimited Partnerships "For people and un limited partnerships, Code applies altogether caseswherever minimum default quantity is INR thous and (USD 15) and higher thanthe Government could later revise minimum amount of default to betterthreshold). Code envisages 2 distinct processes just in case of insolvencies: automatic opportunity and insolvency resolution<sup>46</sup>.

Under automated opportunity method, eligible debtors {basis gross income) will apply to Debt Recovery Tribunal (DRT) for discharge from bound debts not surpassing mere threshold, permitting them to start out anew. The insolvency resolution me1hod consists of preparation of compensation set up by soul, for approval of creditors. If approved, DRT passes an order binding thesoul and credi1ors to compensation set up. If setup is rcjec1ed or fails, thesoul or creditors could apply for bankruptcy order<sup>47</sup>."

Institutional Infrastructure

a) "The Insolvency Regulator, the Code provides for constitution of br and new insolvency regulator i.e. Insolvency and Bankruptcy Board of India (Board). Its role includes: overseeing functioning of insolvency intermediaries i.e. insolvency professionals, insolvency skilled agencies and datautilities; and control insolvency method.

Code contemplates insolvency skilled as category of regulated however personal professionals having minimum standards of professional and moral conduct. In resolution method, insolvency skilled verifies claims of creditors, constitutes creditors committee, runs debtor's business throughout moratorium amount and helps creditors in reaching accord for revival set up. In liquidation, insolvency skilled acts as liquidator and bankruptcy trustee.
- c) Data Utilities, notable feature of Code is that creation of knowledge utilities to gather, collate, attest and circulate money data of debtors in centralised electronic databases. Code needs creditors to supply money data of debtors to multiple utilities on associate current basis. Such data would be offered to creditors, resolution professionals, liquidators and alternative stakeholders' in insolvency and bankruptcy proceedings. Aim of this can be to get rid of data spatiality and dependency on debtor's management for essential information that's required to fleetly resolve insolvency.

Conclusion

We have seen that real efforts are created to formulate laws through recommendations, enactment etc. Yet like several alternative branches of law, company insolvency and restructuring laws in India lacks development. Authorities involved would like courageousness of conviction with clear attitude and can inside so as to create this laws additional economical and effective with part of definitive and sure time frame and therefore judicial method must take industrial approach towards revival of sick firms.

All supporting pillars i.e. accounting and auditing; statutory & legal framework; observance & enforcement; education & training; have to be reinforced and disciplined. The corporate insolvency and restructuring laws ought to order versatile however clear system for disposal of assets expeditiously and at most worth. Secured creditors' claim ought to rank at an equal rate with workmen and government dues. Law ought to also give for mechanism to acknowledge and record claims of unsecured creditors also. India presently ranks 136 out of 189 countries within World Bank's index on convenience of breakdown insolvencies. India's weak insolvency regime, its vital inefficiencies and systematic abuse are number of explanations for distressed state of credit markets in Asian nation these days. Code guarantees to bring on sweeping reforms with thrust on mortal driven insolvency resolution. It aims at early identification of monetary failure and increasing and price of insolvent companies. Code conjointly has provisions to handle cross border insolvency through bilateral agreements and reciprocal arrangements with alternative countries. Unified regime envisages structured and time bound method for insolvency resolution and liquidation that ought to considerably improve debt recovery rates and revitalize sickly Indian bond markets.

FAST TRACK CORPORATE INSOLVENCY RESOLUTION PROCESS

The aim of Insolvency and Bankruptcy code is to conclude procedure within half of default time period specified under Code. Person or entity seeking fast relief will have onus on process at set.off and that person or entity that sets.off Fast.track process must support that case is fit for Fast track. Therefore, whosoever fills application for fast process under Section 55 of IBC, 2016<sup>73</sup> will have to file application along with proof of existence of default as evidenced by records available with an information utility or such other means as may be specified by Board to establish that corporate debtor is eligible for fast track corporate insolvency resolution process. Fast Track Corporate Insolvency Resolution Process Code has provided for fast track insolvency resolution process shall be completed in 90 days (extendable by maximum 45 days).<sup>19</sup> Provisions of insolvency process apply to fast track insolvency. This will be an enabler for start. ups and small and medium enterprises to complete resolution process quickly and move on<sup>74</sup>.

Parties of contract at arm length are bound by tem1s of their contracts, provided contracts do not contravene rule of law or public policy. Commencement of formal Insolvency proceedings could but limit flexibility of person to perform its pre.petition contract obligations, ensuing to liabilities to creditors consequently, proper insolvency procedure ensures an orderly and economical resolution of person affairs. Increasing realisations to creditors or rescuing company debtor as going concern. To realize this purpose, understanding social control efforts and rights are replaced by compulsory regime characterized by collectivity and equality in treatment of equally located creditors. This thesis relatively evaluates impact of commencement of formal insolvency proceedings on company contracts within India, United Kingdom and USA and EU countries. It examines extent to that pre.petition contract bargains are suspended, adjusted or avoided by supervening insolvency law regime within jurisdictions. Thesis adopts thematic approach to look at however legal frameworks within jurisdictions manage inevitable Conflict between policy issues of law and people of insolvency law. Extent to that insolvency law ought to interfere with pre insolvency written agreement arrangements and entitlements has invariably been contentious and keenly debated issue. No doubt, insolvency law incorporates larger range of interests to shield outside interests of pre.petition acquiring parties. These embrace final body of creditors, employees, post.petition creditors etc. even so, within absence of compelling and well.articulated policy justification formula) insolvency ought to not be forum for baring of property rights or pursuit of re. Distributional goals.

5.1 Disclaimer/Rejection of Contracts

Disclaimer can usually exclude or limit liability for breach of 'implied' terms that law presumes are enclosed in an exceedingly Contract once nothing is expressly in agreement on problems concerned. Any term which may have that impact in an exceedingly client contract is especially probably to be thought about unfair.<sup>75</sup>

Rejection could be refusal to simply accept written agreement provide. Rejection means that refusal to simply accept tendered product as written agreement performance. Underneath Uniform industrial Code, buyer's rejection of unorthodox product ought to be created at intervals an affordable time once tender or delivery, and therefore merchant ought to be notified regarding rejection. In order, rejection refers to failure of adoption or confirmation underneath jurisprudence, rejection refers to patent examiner's finding in associate degree workplace action that claim in an application isn't patentable.<sup>21</sup>

5.2. Policy Rationale

Equality

Equality isn't perpetually regarding treating everybody identical It's about treating individuals in such way that end result for every person may be same. This suggests putt things in situ to support individuals to attain similar outcomes. For someone who is blind it's going to involve having screen readers on your computers and removing obstacles in your way.

Building for somebody from minority background it's going to involve having affirming messages in your youth area in order that teenagers grasp that diversity and distinction is valued. Messages may be communicated in several ways in which Like having workers with open and hospitable attitudes, displaying relevant posters and knowledge, celebrating special days like individual and LGBT Pride weeks or special festivals like Divali , Eid etc. By not putt supports in situ exclusion is typically associate degree unintended result.

Equality of outcome may be achieved by ensuring that everybody is supported to own access to resources and deciding and to be recognised, valued and revered. once supports don't seem to be place in situ it always leads to exclusion whether or not this can be not supposed as result of individuals from marginalised things don't feel or grasp that they will attend bunch, whether or not mission statement says it's receptive all. By following checklists in Access All Areas you'll discover variety of supports which will be place in situ to supply service supported principal of equality of outcome.

NB outline on top of isn't supported legislative definition of equality that concentrates additional on discrimination, or denial of equality, i.e. unfair or less favorable treatment or direct exclusion from services etc. of someone from one cluster enclosed in equality legislation compared to person from another group in relevancy product and services, education, accommodation, employment and education<sup>76</sup>.

5.3 Power to Disclaim or Reject Contracts:

The Scope of Power to Disclaim or Reject:

The information contained during this Request for Proposal document (RFP) or after provided to candidates, whether or not verbally or in documentary or other kind by or on behalf of Authority or any of their workers or advisers, is provided to candidates on terms and conditions kicked off in RFP and such alternative terms and conditions subject to that such info is provided. RFP isn't associate degree agreement and is neither suggestion nor invite by Authority to potential candidates or another person. ## The Timing of Decision:

Executory contracts in bankruptcy are problem of concern among legal students thanks to their economic importance and therefore quality of their treatment. For needs of this text, executory contracts, as outlined By Jesse cooked, are those contracts within which performance apart from payment is owed by minimum of one party at time of filing of bankruptcy petition. These contracts are significantly relevant in any bankruptcy continuing as result of they're not entirely assets, nor completely liabilities; instead they imply associate degree interrelatedness between mortal and therefore non debtor party within which every of them enjoys some advantages and bears some prices. However, counting on worth of contract, it will so represent quality or liability to bankruptcy estate.

Recognizing prejudicial effects that such delay could wear none debtor. Bankruptcy Code provides that non debtor party is entitled to raise bankruptcy court to need bankruptcy trustee to determine assumption or rejection before confirmation of reorganization set up<sup>78</sup>.

Effects on Third Parties:

This article is anxious with person upon whom contract purports to confer advantages. Orthodox premise of our law is that, not being celebration to contract, that person has no standing to bring proceedings to enforce performance of written agreement obligations that are helpful to him. It's solely catching parties who could have rights presented or obligations obligatory on them by contract this can be odd philosophy of privity of contract. It precludes third party social control while it had been intention of catching parties that he advantages from their agreement. Solely that part of privity philosophy that relates to conferment of advantages is that concern of this text. Third party social control of exempt ions from liabilities is on far side its scope; main target is performance obligations helpful to 3rd party not exemption obligations.

Effects on Lease Licenses Bottom of Form:

The Victorian Court of attractiveness has confirmed that liquidator of landholder will disclaim lease with full impact, in order that l and isn't any longer mired by tenant's interest in Re Willmott Forests restricted (Receivers and Managers appointed) (in liquidation), The decision offers liquidators understanding of knowing that disclaimer of lease implies that tenant now not has any interest within l and or property<sup>80</sup>.

Background:

The landholder, Willmott Forests Ltd (WFL), was accountable entity of group of agricultural managed investment schemes {MIS}. The members of MIS (the ·'Growers") hired and closely.held by WFL to grow and harvest trees consistent to lease and license agreements.

WFL went into liquidation and therefore liquidators entered into sale contracts for sale of WFL's land. Clear title couldn't be transferred underneath contract unless member's rights and entitlements under leases licenses were terminated or destroyed.

The liquidators applied to Court for directions on whether or not or not they might disclaim leases underneath section 568(1) of Firms Act 200 1 (Cth) to alter them to transfer clear title to land<sup>81</sup>.

The First Decision:

The Court found that acres interest wasn't liability or encumbrance upon property of owner and, on basis had been not necessary to extinguish such associate degree interest to unharness owner or its property from liability. That's liability risk remained with liquidator.

The liquidators appealed choice. Court of Appeal.

The vital question on attractiveness was whether or not acres interest in 1 and is destroyed by disclaimer of lease agreement by liquidator of owner. Consistent to S568 (1) of firms Act 2001.

The Court of attractiveness upset trial judge's call and comm and that liquidators were ready to disclaim leases and conjointly tenant's acres or proprietary interest within 1 and itself was also destroyed.

In reaching its decision Court made following key findings:

- A landlord's obligation to produce leaseholder with possession associate degreed quiet enjoyment is a progress liability that continues for length of lease. Therefore, for owner to be alleviated of that liability proprietary interest of leaseholder should go, not simply lease contract.
- A acres interest is regulated by lease contract and, like all alternative contract is destroyed upon termination of contract. Acres interest doesn't survive termination of contract that created it and controlled tenant's tenure.
- The aim of section 568 of Act is to permit liquidator to unharness corporate in liquidation from obligations which might otherwise stop prompt and economical ending of company's affairs<sup>82</sup>.

Practical Effects:

The Willmott call is vital for liquidator 's tenants and even financiers of companies operational from hired premises).

Liquidators are ready to disclaim lease with comfort of knowing that this can terminate all of tenant's acres interests. This will be of specific importance to liquidator visaged with lease which:

- Contains monetary obligations binding owner that can't be recouped or offset against income stream;
- Renders freehold interest unmarketable or reduces prospects of sale;
- Is otherwise prejudicial to worth of 1 and closely held by corporate (for example, tenant friendly leases which can be considerably underneath market).

Tenants 1rying to secure long leases ought to think about chance that their acres interest may well be destroyed by liquidator's disclaimer<sup>83</sup>.

Contract at Undervalued/ Fraudulent Transfer:

A transfer is dishonorable if created with actual intent to hinder, delay. or gyp any someone. Actual fraud sometimes involves mortal who as part of an quality protection theme donates his assets typically to associate degree "insider", and leaves himself nothing to pay his creditors.

Transfer of assets to lawfully avoid unsecured debt claims and gyp creditors round time debt incurred. Once debt incurred, once dem and created on debt, once suit filed on debt. Round same time or once judgment entered on debt. Before or perhaps after bankruptcy. Secured debt claims vs. unsecured debt claims holders have inbuilt remedies that follow property itself. May additionally assert dishonorable transfer claims however have additional direct and alternative claims legal proceeding, conversion, etc?

A transfer created or obligation incurred by mortal is dishonorable on someone, whether or not creditor's claim arose before or at intervals an affordable time once transfer was created or duty was incurred. If mortal created transfer or incurred obligation:

- (1) With actual intent to hinder, delay, or gyp any someone of debtor; or
- (2) While not receiving fairly equivalent worth in exchange for transfer or obligation, and therefore debtor:
- (3) Was have interactioned or was on point of engage in an exceedingly business or group action thru remaining assets of mortal were immoderately tiny in relevancy business or transaction; or
- (4) Supposed to incur, or believed or moderately ought to have believed that mortal would incur, debts on far side debtor's ability to pay as they became due. Tex. Bus. Com. Code 25.005<sup>84</sup>

The Scope of Rules Rules against Fraudulent Transfers:

A major remedy for creditors to induce debts repaid from defaulting debtor's is to seize debtor's property. Often debtors don't have any viable property (property which will be oversubscribed by creditors to satisfy debt), however people who do, can usually try and shield their property by either concealing it or transferring property to somebody that mortal trusts. Dishonorable transfer is that transfer of associate degree quality from mortal to transferee with specific purpose of delaying, hindering or defrauding someone. Usually, transferee is associate degree business executive, which incorporates friends, relatives, and workers of business mortal. Remedy is to avoid transfer by forcing transferee either.

To come back property to mortal in order that it may be levied by someone or to pay quantity adequate to worth of property.

A dishonorable transfer differs from preference therein preference could be transfer to most well liked someone instead of a business executive. However, discriminatory transfers may be avoided particularly by bankruptcy trustee if mortal filed for bankruptcy. By Allison Friedman of Allison L. Friedman, P.A. denote in dishonorable Transfers on Wednesday, June 8, 2016.

Fraudulent transfers beware! American state general assembly has revamped statute governing proceedings supplementary. Changes can go in impact July 1, 2016. Great news for creditors is that everyone identical avenues to try assortment are still viable, as well as mortal examinations and actions for dishonorable transfers. Additionally, changes clarify that statute of limitations for dishonorable transfers remains twenty years as hostile four as set forth with Uniform Dishonorable Transfer Act ("UFTA"). Revisions can contour associate degree usually confusing method each with attorneys and therefore courts in American state<sup>85</sup>.

There is conjointly excellent news for debtors and third parties. Now rather than blanket motions for proceedings supplementary followed by fishing expedition for transfers and assets, someone should describe property being comm and by third party before impleading that party. This can need that someone have legitimate reason before dragging possible third party recipient of dishonorable transfer into court. New rules conjointly need that third party be served with notice to seem associate degreed directs third party to file a instrument explaining why quality transferred shouldn't be turned over to someone. This procedure provides court with method and fast resolution of difficulty. If third party fails to follow presumptively court can enter associate degree order requiring quality be turned over.

post. Petition assets (except for payoff of prepetition collateral) don't seem to be subject to lender's prepetition (552(a). Bankruptcy Code).

Courts approving cross. collateralization have done thus reluctantly with bound necessities, as well as requiring notice to affected parties and showing that mortal won't survive while not planned finance. Most objections against cross. collateralization are that it is:

- Not licensed as way of DIP finance underneath Bankruptcy Code.
- Directly contrary to elemental priority theme of Bankruptcy Code. That typically needs that creditors at intervals given category are to be treated equally. Cross.collateralization leads to affirmative bound creditors at intervals identical category over others. Closely associated with cross. collateralization are roll.ups that have identical impact as cross.collateralization as result of they end in prepetition debt turning into secured with post.petition collateral. This cross. collateralization impact could be common objection to roll.ups <sup>86</sup>

Innoventive Industries Ltd.the corporate debtor based in Pune, Maharashtra had taken working loan, term loan and external commercial borrowing facilities from ICICI Bank Ltd. (the financial creditor). Default in repayment occurred in respect of partial debt on 30 November 2016 for total outstanding amount of Rs. 1,019,177,034/.Therefore, financial creditor initiated application under section 7 of Code, for corporate insolvency resolution process against corporate debtor. Corporate debtor claimed that, Maharashtra Government, under provisions of MRU Act has provided relief undertaking to them. According to corporate debtor, for period of one year from 22 July, 2016 to 21 July, 2017. Affairs of industrial undertaking shall be conducted to aid as measure of preventing unemployment. Moreover, it was contended by them that, as result of undertaking rights, privileges, obligations or liabilities accrued or incurred prior to 22 July, 2016 and any remedy for enforcement of same shall remain suspended, and all proceedings relating thereto pending before any Court, Tribunal, Officers or Authority shall be stayed, for said time period. Rejecting contentions of corporate debtor, NCLT admitted application of financial creditor and made an order for moratorium and public announcement as necessary under Section 13 of Code.

The main contentions raised by Innoventive in appeal against order of NCLT were:

 The order was passed sans giving notice to Innoventive and was thus violation of principle of natural justice as provided under Section 424 of Companies Act, 2013. It was also argued that since NCLT was established under Companies Act, 2013, it is bound by section 420 of Companies Act, 2013, which mandated _reasonable opportunity of being heard 'to be given to parties before delivering an order.  It was argued that financial creditor did not get consent of Joint Lenders Forum to initiate proceedings<sup>106</sup>

Vital Observations Made In Judgment:

The Insolvency and Bankruptcy Code (IBC), 2016, is among most crucial structural reforms undertaken by this government. Yet, for IBC to be effective, principles at heart of legislation must be respected.

First, there has to be timely outcomes within 180 days (270 days for rare, complex cases), failing which there will be credible threat of liquidation. Second, commercial decisions regarding resolution and viability should be taken by Committee of Creditors (CoCs), whose money is at stake.

Third, National Company Law Tribunal's (NCLT) role should be adjudicating critical issues of justice, such as compliance with procedural requirements, overseeing Insolvency Professional IP), and adjudicating on voidable transactions and potential penalties.

With last two principles of IBC being betrayed, core of code —early resolution — has been regularly compromised. Recent judgment in _Arcelor Mittal' holds out some hope. But court's observations on time taken by NCLT and National Company Law Appellate Tribunal (NCLAT) to resolve disputes being excluded from reckoning is concern.

Delays to IBC start from very admission of a insolvency petition. IBC envisages that process of insolvency must be triggered, or disposed of, within 14 days. However, data suggests that NCLT takes an average of 24 days.

Crucially, IBC envisages that NCLT confirms existence of default, and some procedural requirements, for initiating insolvency proceedings. Code sought to aid early detection and resolution of stress, and also avoid clogging judicial bandwidth at trigger stage. Yet, NCLT has sought to go beyond grounds set out in IBC, applying balance sheet test in some instances and ascribing ulterior motives in others. NCLT should delimit its role and apply judicial discretion on other matters.

Once proceedings are initiated, resolution plan of debtor is left to commercial forces. These principles, and credible threat of liquidation, made 180 days timeline envisioned in IBC plausible. And yet, this hasn't resulted in resolution or liquidation in more than half even largest and most visible of cases.

The application of judiciary's bandwidth not made in manner envisaged under IBC is one reason for delays in resolution process. During arguments in _Arcelor Mittal case, Supreme Court seemed to be alive to some of these issues. In some statements, it reiterated primacy of commercial role of CoCs and NCLT's role in only following acceptance of resolution plan. It emphatically stated that NCLT and NCLAT are not supervisory authority in commercial matters during insolvency resolution process.

And yet, in final judgment, court sought to strike balance between _timely completion'and _corporate death'. In doing so, it stated that time taken in litigation ought to be excluded. Court stated that NCLT and NCLAT would not be tardy in decision.making. But if decision took longer than 270 days, it would preclude viable resolution plan from being implemented. It is here that court could have restated their observations regarding NCLT and NCLAT limiting their roles to adjudicating on matters of law.

The Corporate Insolvency Resolution Process Regulations, issued by Insolvency and Bankruptcy Board of India, state that where amount claimed by creditor is uncertain, resolution professional shall make its best estimate based on information available, and revise estimate of claims on additional information, if required. This would allow resolution process to continue, with such contentious claims being resolved subsequently — without adjudication by tribunal during prescribed timelines.

Much of IBC's success is based on timelines being met. Which, in turn, is predicated on tribunals performing their role. Limiting overreach of tribunals will contribute immensely to IBC's success. (Amitabh Kant is CEO, NITI Aayog, and Richa Roy is lawyer involved with IBC's drafting)

Adherence to principles of natural justice: While dealing with issue whether issuance of notice to corporate debtor before initiation of corporate insolvency resolution process is necessary, appellate tribunal relied on landmark judgments of Maneka Gandhi v Union Of India<sup>36</sup>, Union Of India v J. N. Sinha<sup>107</sup>, Swadeshi Cotton Mills v Union Of India<sup>108</sup>, State of Orissa v Bina Pani<sup>109</sup>, A. K. Kraipak v Union Of India<sup>110</sup>, etc. and drew 6 7 8 out exceptions to application of principles of natural justice.

In Maneka Gandhi v Union of India<sup>111</sup>, it was held by Supreme Court that 9 audi alteram partem rule is intended to inject justice into law and not defeat ends of justice, or to make law lifeless, absurd, stultifying, self.defeating or plainly contrary to common sense of situation<sup>4</sup>

In Union of India v J. N. Sinha it was held by Supreme Court that principles of natural justice cannot be equated with fundamental rights. If legislature excludes application of principles of natural justice, then court cannot ignore mandate of legislature or statutory authority.

In A. K. Kraipak v Union of India Honorable Supreme Court held that principles of 13 natural justice can supplement law but not supplant it.

In Union of India v W. N. Chadha, their Lordships, while adverting to issue of applicability of doctrine of natural justice, have ruled that rule of audi alteram partem can be excluded where rule itself leads to injustice.

In Union of India v Tulsiram Patel Honorable Supreme Court observed that, the constitutional right of 16 equal opportunity to be heard can be excluded where nature of action taken, its objects and purpose and scheme of relevant statutory provision warrant its exclusion<sup>49</sup>

In D.K. Yadav v. J.M.A. Industries Limited, Honorable Supreme Court has held as follows:.

Particular statute or statutory rules or orders having statutory flavour may also exclude application of principles of natural justice expressly or by necessary implication. In other respects principles of natural justice would apply unless employer should justice its exclusion on given special and exceptional exigencies."<sup>112</sup>

In S.L Kapoor v. Jagmohan Hon'ble Supreme Court was of view:

"Where on admitted or undisputed facts only one conclusion is possible and under law only one penalty is permissible, Court may not insist on observance of principles of natural justice."

In Dharampal Satyapal v Deputy Commissioner Central Excise, Honorable Apex court was of view that if it is felt that hearing would not change ultimate conclusion reached by decision maker, then no legal duty to supply hearing arises. From aforesaid decisions of Honorable Supreme Court, exceptions to Principle of natural justice were summarized as follows: i. Exclusion in case of emergency ii. Express statutory exclusion.

iii. Where disclosure would be prejudicial to public interest. iv. Where prompt action is needed.

v. Where it is impracticable to hold hearing or appeal. vi. Exclusion incase of purely administrative actions.

vii. Where no right of person is infringed. viii. The procedural defect would have made no difference to outcome. ix. Exclusion on ground of _no fault decision maker.

x. Where compliance with principles of natural justice is useless formality.

The NCLAT also cited very recent Calcutta High Court decision in case of Sree Metaliks Limited & Anr v Union of India<sup>113</sup>, wherein Court held:

A proceeding for declaration of insolvency of company has drastic consequence for company. Such proceeding may end up in its liquidation. Person cannot be condemned unheard. Where statute is silent on right of hearing and it does not in express terms, oust principles of natural justice, same can and should be read into in. When NCLT receives an application under Section 7 of Code of 2016, therefore, it must afford reasonable opportunity of hearing to corporate debtor as Section 424 of Companies Act, 2013 mandates it to ascertain existence of default as claimed by financial creditor in application. NCLT is, therefore, obliged to afford reasonable opportunity to financial debtor to contest such claim of default by filing written objection or any other written document as NCLT may direct and provide reasonable opportunity of hearing to corporate debtor prior to admitting petition filed under Section 7 of Code of 2016. Section 7(4) of Code of 2016 requires NCLT to ascertain default of corporate debtor. Such ascertainment of default must necessarily involve consideration of documentary claim of financial creditor. This statutory requirement of ascertainment of default brings within its wake extension of reasonable opportunity to corporate debtor to substantiate by document or otherwise, that there does not exist default as claimed against it. Proceedings before NCLT are adversarial in nature. Both sides are, therefore, entitled to reasonable opportunity of hearing. There is no specific provision under code to provide hearing to corporate debtor in petition under section 7 or 9 of code. Section 5(1) of Code talks about adjudicating authority which refers to NCLT constituted under Section 408 of Companies Act 2013. Further, section 420(1) says that reasonable opportunity of hearing shall be given to parties before passing its orders. Tribunal observed that case of Innoventive does not fall into exceptions to application of principles of natural justice and issuance of notice is mandatory. However, in this present case, though no notice was given to Appellant before admission of case, appellant intervened before admission of case and all objections and contentions raised by appellant have been heard and considered by NCLT on 17th January 2017. Hence, just on grounds of non issuance of notice matter cannot be remitted back to adjudicating authority as it would merely be useless formality

- 1. Insofar as Master Restructuring agreement was concerned, it was held that appellant cannot take advantage of same. Even if it is presumed that fresh agreement came into force, it does not absolve appellants from paying any previous debts due to financial creditor.
- 2. Distinction between Sections 7 & 9 of Code: Under Section 7, default has to be ascertained and satisfaction has to be recorded by Adjudicating Authority. Whereas, there is no similar provision under Section 9 of Code. While in Section 7 neither notice of dispute nor notice of dem and is relevant, in Sections 8 and 9 notice of dispute and notice of dem and become relevant for purposes of admission and rejection.
- Ascertainment and Satisfaction: statute makes it compulsory for Adjudicating Authority to ascertain and record satisfaction regarding occurrence of default prior to admitting application. Mere claim made by financial creditor that default has taken place does not suffice.
- 4. Overriding effect of Code: Section 238 of Code vividly requires that provisions of Code shall have effect notwithstanding anything inconsistent

Therewith contained in any other law for time being in force or any instrument having effect by virtue of any such law. Appellate tribunal was of view that appellants are not 25 protected under Maharashtra Relief Undertaking Act, 1956 because Code is non obstanate in nature. It was observed that Maharashtra Relief Undertaking Act and Insolvency and Bankruptcy Code have completely different areas of application.

The NCLAT rejected appellant's contention that respondent's insolvency application is liable to be rejected as financial creditor had not obtained consent of Joint Lenders Forum before filing insolvency application by holding that NCLT is not bound to look into this before admitting application<sup>114</sup>.

Criticism:

The NCLAT order states that decision o NCLT ought to have severe impacts on welfare and existence of company and hence, it is imperative for authority to adopt cautious approach while admitting a insolvency application by ensuring adherence to principles of natural justice. Evidently, order is capable of delaying and slowing down adjudication process. Another significant ruling of NCLAT in JK Jute Mills Co. Ltd. v Surendra Trading Co.<sup>59</sup> where it examined nature of time limits (whether mandatory or directory) prescribed under Code, including those for admission or rejection of a insolvency application by NCLT, can add to difficulties of creditors and eventually defeat purpose of speedy redressal. NCLAT in this case, held that time limit of 14 days for NCLT to admit or reject an application for initiating insolvency proceedings under sections 7, 9 and 10 is director rather than mandatory, and that NCLT has inherent powers to extend 14 day period on case.to. case basis in interest of fairness and justice.27 If above. mentioned judgment of NCLAT is read with Innoventive judgment, then NCLT's will get free h and to delay proceedings and in.turn be detrimental to interests of creditors. Conclusion This judgment provides great clarity regarding scope and extent of rights of corporate debtor to contest admission of insolvency applications by financial creditors and will has laid down guidelines for NCLT's across India for deciding insolvency applications filed by financial creditors. However, there are is one negative aspect in respect of time period of disposal, which needs to be addressed.<sup>115</sup>

Challenges In Insolvency and Bankruptcy Code:

1. Shortage of NCLT Benches. NCLT has only 11 benches and limited judicial and technical members, which is inadequate compared to huge number of cases already pending at BIFR and DRT which is to be transferred to NCLT. Consequent to dissolution of Company Law Board (CLB) and repealing of SICA Act, all matters pending with CLB will be transferred to NCLT whereas all existing registered BIFR cases stands abated and such companies may file with NCLT afresh within 180 days. This shall lead to NCLT dealing with backlogs of CLB/SICA cases. NCLT should possess adequate manpower and infrastructure to deal their cases apart from responsibility of being Adjudicating Authority under this Code<sup>116</sup>.

A report states that total number of insolvency and bankruptcy cases pending would be around 25,000 and NCLT even with a increased number of judicial members of up to 50 would take approximately 7 years to adjudicate upon 25,000 pending cases, assuming all of them moved to NCLT. Unless there are dedicated benches to hear insolvency cases, number of benches are significantly increased and are well equipped, and transition is better managed effective disposal under this code will not take place<sup>117</sup>.

2. Shortage of Skilled Professionals – Code departs from framework of debtor in possession to new framework of _creditor in possession'. At present three agencies i.e.-chartered accountants, cost accountants and company secretaries which are recognized and in excess of 1,000 individuals enrolled with these agencies, have been given license and are able to take on appointments as insolvency professionals. These professional will have challenging task ahead as they have very limited knowledge and experience in running businesses as promoters will be forced to step back and professional will take over for setting up independent management, assessing financial viability and preparing a resolution plan or evaluating resolution plans. Until an efficient infrastructure of insolvency professionals who are efficient managers is put in place, effective implementation of Code would seriously be prejudiced and rehabilitation of such corporate person will be problem<sup>118</sup>.

- 3. Non Cooperative Management Dilution of right of secured creditors In so far as constitution of creditors committee is concerned, Code does not distinguish between secured and an unsecured creditor as voting rights are only dependent on amount owed to creditor. Thus, an unsecured financial creditor with same levels of exposure as secured financial creditor in company will have same voting rights in COC, though position of unsecured creditor to recover dues at time of liquidation is at much weaker footing. This dilutes position of secured creditor. Further it is not clear if COC/resolution plan can be challenged if all financial creditors however insignificant do not constitute part of committee<sup>119</sup>.
- 4. Lack of Consensus Among Lenders: Resolution plan submitted by RP to COC needs to approve by vote of 75% of financial creditors. If no resolution plan is approved and submitted to NCLT within period of 180 days (or 270 days if extended), NCLT shall order liquidation of corporate borrower. Code therefore vests lot of power on lenders. Past experience demonstrates lack of willingness and consensus on part of banks at arriving at consensus in such matters. Implementation of Code is therefore dependent on lenders acting in timely manner and adopting holistic approach of turnaround and revival rather than focusing merely on minimizing provisioning<sup>120</sup>.

- 5. Need for better management and monitoring of IRP/RP: IBBI also needs to ensure adequate mechanism to monitor IPs is in place so as to ensure transparency and avoid unethical practices and proper code of conduct to be published<sup>121</sup>.
- 6. High cost of resolution process: IBC adopts UK bankruptcy regime. Studies conducted in UK on their bankruptcy regime reveal that while adoption of IRP model resulted in higher realizations, they also correspondingly increased costs of bankruptcy and may not materially improve creditor recoveries.
- 7. Mindset of existing Stakeholders: A complete transformation of banking system is needed warning mechanisms, astute credit monitoring, proactive commercial decision.making with respect to way forward overhauled. Banks also need to exercise professional judgment in selection of appropriate professional and not to follow lowest cost policy without consideration of technical credentials and experience commensurate with complexity and magnitude of situation<sup>122</sup>.

CHAPTER 7

CHALLENGES FACED UNDER ACT

ROLE OF NCLT:

The NCLT will face biggest challenge in process of transitioning existing cases to IBC. NCLT currently has 11 benches with sixteen judicial members and seven technical members among them. Its mandate includes hearing cases earlier dealt with by CLB under Companies Act 2013, in addition to cases under IBC. As of March 2015, around 4,200 pending CLB cases. All of these will be transferred to NCLT. In addition, CLB receives around 4,000 new cases every year. Now these will have to be dealt with by NCLT. All 4,500 winding up cases pending at high courts as of March 2015 are also likely to get transferred to NCLT. Corporate recovery cases at DRTs and rehabilitation cases at BIFR are eligible to be initiated as new cases IBC, 2016. Therefore, given its limited capacity, NCLT has to deal with fresh IBC cases, added to which will be case load from CLB, high courts, BIFR and potentially DRT. Unless its adjudication capacity is enhanced, NCLT will fail to hear and dispose cases in timely manner from start. For IBC cases, this could mean inability of NCLT to adhere to 180.day timeline that is duration of CIRP. This has earlier been seen in case of DRTs too. DRTs were intended to dispose of recovery cases in 180 days, but given capacity issues and pendency, often first hearing for case takes place after 180 days. 180 day timeline represents core design intent of IBC – rapid resolution of insolvency to maximize recovery. If this is compromised due to capacity constraints, effectiveness of IBC will get diluted because of burden of cases transferred and new cases initiated under act<sup>123</sup>.

The concern related to NCLT is regarding case law that develops under IBC because its new law, procedures and common practices under it need to develop independently from case laws under pre.IBC regime. Since first cases that come to IBC are likely to be existing ones, initial case law that develops under IBC will reflect context of these cases. behavior of creditors, debtors, auditors, lawyers, liquidators are all steeped in old case laws under Companies Act 1956, Sick Industrial Companies Act 1985 (SICA), Securitizations and Reconstruction of Financial Assets and Enforcement of Security Interest Act, 2002 and like. This will change only when IBC gets perfected as law and its institutional infrastructure reaches its capacity, allowing NCLT to focus on upholding design and objective of IBC over all priors that exist. For this, IPs, IUs, NCLT and IBBI all need to be properly set up and functioning in manner given under IBC.

Role of Insolvency Professionals:

IPS forms backbone of IBC. Their role requires fine balancing act, given that they are in charge of managing Debtor Company and are accountable to committee of creditors and adjudicating authority for their actions. To ensure that IPs performs their role without any problem and hindrance, well.defined entry barriers to profession must be designed and IPs must be closely regulated by IBBI. Qualification examination has been proposed to get registered as IPs. Congress left behind legacy of an anachronic system of resolving commercial insolvency. Companies Act had provision of winding up company if it is unable to pay its debt. Additionally, Congress Government had enacted SICA in decade of 1980s for rehabilitation of sick companies. This applied to companies whose net worth has become negative. Law proved to be an utter failure. Law carried out rehabilitation, several sick companies got protective iron curtain against creditors. Debt Recovery Tribunal was created to enable banks to recover every due diligently. But these have not proved to be highly efficient mechanism for recovering debt. For non corporate insolvencies Provincial Insolvency Act was applicable. This was rusted piece of legislation, ineffective and had faded away because of disuse<sup>124</sup>.

The NDA Government headed by Shri Atal Bihari Vajpayee has enacted SARFAESI Law which proved to be much better than earlier mechanism. In year 2000, NPAs had sky. Rocketed into double digits. Both SARFESI Law and prudent interest rate management by RBI helped in bringing NPAs down. Subsequently, between2008 to 2014, Banks lent indiscriminately. This lead to very high percentage of NPAs which was highlighted by Asset Quality Reviews of RBI. This led to prompt action by Government. An Expert Committee was appointed, which submitted its Report in 2015 recommending IBC. Immediately, Bill was introduced in Lok Sabha and referred to Joint Committee of Parliament. Parliamentary Committee displayed its wisdom and submitted report recommending some changes in Legislation. IBC was approved by both Houses of Parliament in May, 2016. This was quickest Economic legislative change that I have seen being made by Parliament. NCLT was immediately constituted, Insolvency Bankruptcy Board of India was established and regulations were framed. By end of 2016 corporate insolvency cases were being received by NCLT<sup>125</sup>.

The Experience So Far:

The early harvest through IBC process has been extremely satisfactory. It has changed debtor Creditor relationship. Creditor no longer chases debtor. In fact, it is otherwise. Upon constitution of NCLT and implementation of IBC its functionality had revealed need for improvements in law. Two legislative intervention since then have taken place.

The NCLT has become trusted forum of high credibility. Those who drive companies to insolvency, exit from management. Selection of new management has been an honest and transparent process. There has been no political or Governmental interference in cases. Recoveries of monies parked in insolvent companies has taken place through three methods firstly, after introduction of Section 29(A) such companies are paying up in anticipation of not crossing red line and being referred to NCLT. As result, banks have started receiving monies from potential debtors who pay in anticipation of default. The defaulters know well that once they get into IBC they will surely be out of management because of Section 29(A). Secondly, once petition of creditor is filed before NCLT<sup>126</sup>

Role of Insolvency and Bankruptcy Board of India:

The IBBI, however, has now licensed first batch of IPs only on basis of their professional experience. Given speed with which law is being implemented, this seems to be only option till infrastructure for conducting examination is set up. IPS registered in first round also need to be prepared to handle complexities of existing cases. IBBI needs to have adequate capacity to monitor IPs and ensure that malpractice and fraud do not seep into profession in early days. For this, IBBI needs to ramp up its human resources and its IT capability and build far greater level of preparedness than it is at, right now.

The lack of IU infrastructure is going to be another challenge under IBC, CIRP can be triggered only when default by Debtor Company has taken place. In IBC design, IU enables quicker initiation of cases by providing access to irrefutable and transparent evidence of default. At present, winding up petitions under Companies Act, 1956 and cases under SICA take around one to two years to get admitted. The situation is marginally better at DRTs, where Bankers Books Evidence Act allows banker books to be treated as primary evidence in cases. Even then there are delays in establishing existence of debt and default. In absence of IUs, IBBI is required to specify evidence of default that can be used to trigger a IBC case. This can cause inordinate delays especially if NCLT gets involved in evaluating whether default has indeed taken place. Under IBC design, IUs also facilitate formation of creditors committee within 14 days from date of registration of case. All information regarding creditors claims needed by a IP to form committee can be easily collected from IUs. It is therefore likely that in absence of IUs, initiating case as well as forming creditors 'committee will take far longer than envisaged in IBC design. This will make it difficult to meet 180.day timeline for completing CIRP, giving rise to two possible outcomes.

- The delay in forming creditors'committee will reduce time available to agree on resolution plan. If committee cannot agree on resolution plan within specified time limit, NCLT will order liquidation of company.
- The NCLT may exercise its judicial discretion and extend CIRP beyond time limit specified in law. Both these outcomes have created negative consequences. Former creates liquidation bias in CIRP while latter compromises fundamental design of time. Bound resolution in IBC.

The manner in which IBC is currently being implemented seems to focus more on expeditiously operationalizing law rather than effectively implementing it. If these concerns are not addressed suitably, will defeat purpose of enacting new insolvency law to improve recovery rate in order to promote development of credit markets and entrepreneurship. Many debtors have been paying at pre.admission stage so that declaration of insolvency does not take place. Thirdly, many major insolvency cases have already been resolved and many are on way of resolving. Those which cannot be resolved move towards liquidation and banks are receiving liquidation value<sup>127</sup>.

The functioning of NCLT and Tribunal has led to large number of cases being filed. NCLT is over crowded, its capacity is now being further enhanced. Realizing urgency, the Supreme Court has pronounced several judgements expeditiously, laying down Law on new Legislative provisions. Law declared by Supreme Court will go long way in interpretation and clarifying ambiguity, if any. This will expedite process further in coming days.

The Data:

So far 1322 cases have been admitted by NCLT. 4452 cases have been disposed at preadmission49 stage and 66 have been resolved after adjudication. 260 cases have been ordered for liquidation. In 66 resolution cases, realization by creditors was around Rs.

80,000 crores. As per NCLT database, in 4452 cases disposed at pre.admission stage, amount apparently settled was around Rs 2.02 lakh crores. Some of big 12 cases such as Bhushan Power and Steel Ltd. and Essar Steel India Ltd. are in advanced stages of resolution and are likely to be resolved in this financial year in which realization is expected to be around Rs 70,000 crores. Increase in conversion of NPAs into standard accounts and decline in new accounts falling in NPA.

The Insolvency & Bankruptcy Code:

The Code provides for an integrated corporate insolvency resolution process. Upon default, any financial creditor, an operational creditor or corporate debtor itself may initiate an insolvency resolution process by making an application to NCLT. Upon satisfaction of existence of default and non payment of dues by defaulter, NCLT may admit application. Corporate insolvency resolution process is to be completed within one hundred and eighty days, which can be further extended to two hundred and seventy days only. NCLT, thereafter, shall declare moratorium, call for claims and appoint an insolvency professional who shall take over company. Credit committee of all creditors shall be constituted, wherein each creditor votes. If 75% of creditors approve the resolution plan', plan will be implemented for functioning of Company. In case creditors do not approve plan, Company goes into liquidation. There is waterfall mechanism in place based on order of priority for distribution of assets on liquidation.

Our bankruptcy code is world.class is to continuously improve business regulation to make endeavour of every naion it easier to do business. The World Bank conducts an annual examination to gauge _Ease of Doing Business' in nearly 200 economies and ranks them on ten sets of parameters, which include_Resolving Insolvency'. India ranked 142nd in Ease of Doing Business for 2015. In terms of resolving insolvency, country ranked 137th. The government set an ambitious target of breaking into top 50 on this index, and initiated plethora of institutional reforms, including an overhaul of insolvency framework.

After four years, India ranks 77th, up by 65 places, in aggregate rankings, and 108th on Resolving insolvency. Indian insolvency regime has many welcome features. Its primary focus is revival of an ailing proceedings under Insolvency and Bankruptcy Code, 2016 (Code) have returned 210 per cent of liquidation value for creditors. They are realising on an average 48 per cent of their claims through reorganisation, as compared to erstwhile regime which recovered 26 per cent.

The Code provides timeline of 180 days to conclude corporate insolvency resolution process (CIRP), extendable by one.time extension up to 90 days. Probably, no other regime in world mandates timebound resolution. This push has meant that proceedings under Code take on average about 300 days, including time spent on litigation, in contrast with previous regime where processes took about 4.3 years.

The insolvency resolution process cost, which includes fee of insolvency practitioner and other professionals, and expenses related to meetings of committee of creditors (CoC), public announcements. <sup>128</sup>

Key Differences:

• Time: The Code provides for time bound resolution process. References of sick companies under SICA take around one or two years to get admitted for further investigation. While Code is still new, there is barrage of cases from BIFR, Debt Recovery Tribunal and Companies Act, 1956 that will now fall under ambit of NCLT. This may lead to delay in completion of insolvency process within prescribed limit of one hundred and eighty days. On this point, National Company Law Appellate Tribunal (NCLAT) recently, ruled that time limits prescribed under sections 7, 9 and 10 of Code are merely directory and not mandatory, but however, one hundred eighty day timeline, extendable to two hundred and seventy days, is mandatory<sup>60</sup>. ruling, thus, provides gist of Tribunal 's view of objectives of Code.

• Trigger Point: SICA is only triggered when there is loss of fifty per cent of company's worth. Therefore, it 's already too late, because half of company 's worth is already eroded by time BIFR decides to revive or liquidate it. However, trigger, ironically, for liquidating sick company is only default of five hundred rupees. Conversely, the trigger point under Code is one lakh rupees which can be increased up to one crore rupees, by way of notification of government.

• Practice: The BIFR and High Courts are reluctant in liquidating Sick Company due to fear of loss of jobs, labour unrest, etc<sup>61</sup>.Debtorcompany to protect itself from creditorsclaims also misused SICA. This is not possibility anymore, since resolution plan so voted by credit committee, ensures creditors control over functioning of company. Corporate debtor cannot circumvent process to keep themselves safe in presence of a insolvency professional and resolution plan.

• Distribution of assets: The Code provides for waterfall mechanism for distribution of assets on liquidation of sickcompany. This provides for stronger corporate governance mechanism, wherein creditors rights are enhanced. Priority starts from securing rights of secured creditors and workmen to payment of equity, which by its very nature is high risk return. SICA, however, did not prescribe for waterfall mechanism. Distribution was based on provisions of Companies Act, 1956<sup>129</sup>.

CONCLUSION & SUGGESSTION

The changes in the insolvency and bankruptcy laws in India have been dynamic, especially with the passing of the Insolvency and Bankruptcy Code (IBC) in 2016. This was done in order to re-enact and amend the laws dealing with the reorganisation and insolvency resolution of corporate persons, partnership firms and individuals in an efficient and time bound manner, with an objective to realise the maximum value of the assets, to encourage entrepreneurship, and to regulate the concerns and rights of all the stakeholders.

Emerging Trends

One of the most significant trends is the decrease of the time it takes to complete the resolution process. According to the IBC, the corporate insolvency resolution process shall take at least 180 days (which can be extended by another 90 days), which is significantly shorter than the time taken in the earlier regime. This has created a culture of fast track and efficiency in the handling of insolvency cases.

Another growing phenomenon is the shift in the creditors' power, especially the financial creditors where they are now key decision makers. The constitution of the Committee of Creditors (CoC),<sup>35</sup> which consists of the financial creditors has shifted the power from the debtors to the creditors thus providing priority to the lender at the time of resolution plan. Also there has been a positive change in the creditor's recovery rates as well. This has been made possible due to the structured and transparent mechanisms of the IBC which has helped in the efficient recovery of dues as seen from the various high-profile cases. This trend is important for sustaining the confidence of investors and financial organizations in the Indian market.

Challenges

However, several challenges are still evident to date. Procedural issues still remain a cause of concern and they are most times occasioned by the congested NCLT. These delays work against the IBC's goal of a fast solution due to the lack of benches and the large number of cases.

A major issue is the shortage of qualified and experienced insolvency professionals to meet the current dem and level. These personnel are valuable in coordinating the resolution process, and if they are few, they may present a drag to the implementation of the IBC. To some extent, the legal framework of construction contracts under the IBC has also been marred by the provisions of IBC that have been the subject of varied interpretations, thereby leading to legal ambiguities that occasions uncertainties that slow down the resolution of disputes.

Suggestions for Improvement

Thus, the given proposal to improve the IBC's efficiency requires further sophisticated judicial and legislative development. This involves resolving uncertainties relating to provisions of the law and establishing that the law grows with the test in resolving pragmatic problems and in the market.

More capacities and infrastructural developments serve as a necessary support to the NCLT. This could mean the provision of more benches and recruitment of more judges since the workload would be noticed correctly in this case. Also, there is a problem of scarcity of qualified insolvency professionals, and hence more funding in the human capital in terms of training and development of such practitioners would enhance the quality of resolution.

The early resolution of disputes must not be seen as the responsibility of a single industry player, but must be a collective effort that involves all key market players such as corporate organizations, financial institutions, and regulatory agencies. This can be achieved by increasing the level of awareness and appreciation of the provisions and the gains that are embraced in the IBC.

Finally, nurturing the supportive environment for distressed assets through arching the asset reconstruction companies and specialized investment funds offers the last line exits for resolution and recovery. It has also been suggested that by encouraging innovation and flexibility in how firms approach resolution planning, organisational improves can also be realised.

To conclude, though the conceptualisation and implementation of the IBC has ushered in a paradigm shift for debtor states like India dealing with insolvency and bankruptcy, continuous endeavours to overcome its challenges efficient management are essential to sustain the benefits associated with this measure and build a strong insolvency resolution regime and implementation mechanism.
